We ask people to teach us what they're good at themselves. If you want to speak French, you look for a teacher who speaks French fluently. If you want to play the piano, throw a curveball, crochet an Afghan, or rebuild a transmission, then you look for a teacher who is good at doing that very thing. I've been playing golf once in a rare while since I was in junior high school, and I have never once had the person I played with ask me to give them golf lessons. We ask people to teach us what they're good at themselves. Only one time in the Gospels do the disciples go to Jesus and ask Him to teach them something. He teaches them all through the course of His ministry, of course, but there is only one recorded instance when the disciples go to Him and ask, "Would you teach us how to do this?" Luke 11: 1: "Lord, teach us to... pray." At that point, Luke notes there that once again Jesus has been praying. The disciples see the importance that prayer has for Jesus and the impact it has on his life and ministry, and of all they might have thought to ask Jesus to teach them, what they ask is "Lord, teach us how to pray." We need to learn from the example Jesus gives the disciples and leaves for us, and pray. It's something you can learn to do, and do more effectively.

Few things stir the heart for missions like meeting and hearing from an IMB missionary, yet those opportunities can often be few and far between. In the last couple of years, we have been blessed to host PJ Scott, Phil and Laura Metcalf, Chris and Rebecca Abner, Angela Dawson, and now—Casey Jones and his family. The Joneses will be here this coming Sunday while they're on break from their work in East Germany, so don't miss the opportunity to be a part of another blessing! Plus we'll be baptizing several people who came to Christ in the revival services this week. In greater and more significant ways than we realize, money and possessions affect and influence our thinking, our priorities and choices. On Sunday night in Mark 10: 23 – 31, we see how Jesus declares that true wealth is spiritual, not material. You don't need to miss any of this!

Here With Us This Coming Sunday!

Casey Jones and his family serve as IMB missionaries in East Germany. They are currently on leave and staying in Mt. Juliet, and will be here with us to speak in morning worship this coming Sunday morning! Don't miss a chance to meet and hear from more of our international missionaries, just in time to prepare for the Week of Prayer and Lottie Moon in December who each come by baptism.

Thank you to everyone who prayed, faithfully attended, invited people, and served in other invaluable ways to help make the Revival such a blessed week!

This year we will host the Community Thanksgiving Service on Tuesday evening, November 22, at 7:00. There will be a reception in Madden Hall following the service. Join us for a unique time of worship with brothers and sisters from other churches in Woodbury!

Note: there will be no activities here the following night, Wednesday, November 23.

Thank you to everyone who was photographed for the new Church Directory! Please remember your appointment to view the photos this coming weekend!

Making a list and checking it twice? This year, consider the gift that gives all year long – a First Baptist Woodbury Cookbook. They're available in the Church Office for $7 each.

Church Library Resource of the Week

Pastor Jim Cymbala calls us back to a fiery, passionate preoccupation with God that will restore what the enemy has stolen from us: our first love for Jesus, our zeal, our troubled children, our wounded marriages, our broken and divided churches. Born out of the heart and soul of The Brooklyn Tabernacle, the message of Fresh Faith is illustrated by true stories of men and women whose lives have been changed through the power of faith. Cymbala writes, “Real faith is produced when our hearts draw near to God himself and receive his promises deep within.” That kind of faith can transform your life—starting today, if you choose. Find it in your Church Library!

Veterans Day: Friday, November 11

“The valor and courage of our young women and men in the armed services are a shining example to all of the world, and we owe them and their families our deepest respect.” — Bill Frist, former US Senator

“The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.” — Abraham Lincoln
